ATTENDANCE

New Attendance Policy

Parents - please note:

* There is an "Extended Leave/Prearranged Absence" form in the H.S. office & available on our website to print/email to us (jkittilson@northportschools.org) or tkingsbury@northportschools.org) for ALL OTHER KINDS OF ABSENCES/reasons students are not in school other than sickness. This form needs to be turned in 2 days prior, please.

* The student/parent needs to turn in the H.S. office an excuse note from the doctor, dentist, or orthodontic office for missing class

ATTEND TODAY, ACHIEVE TOMORROW

GOOD SCHOOL ATTENDANCE MEANS...

PRESCHOOLERS build skills and develop good habits for showing up on time	ELEMENTARY STUDENTS read well by the end of third grade	HIGH SCHOOLERS stay on track for graduation	COLLEGE STUDENTS earn their degrees	WORKERS succeed in their jobs

Too many absences—excused or unexcused—can keep students from succeeding in school and in life. How many are too many? 10% of the school year—that's 18 missed days or 2 days a month—can knock students off track.

There are 18 school days in November.

Chronic Absence (10%) = missing 1.8 school days this month. That's 11.43 hours of learning.

Students daily hours at school in a week = 31.9 hours

Students daily hours at school this month = 114.5 hours

American Indian Heritage Month

<https://www.bgca.org/news-stories/2023/August/8-ways-to-celebrate-native-american-heritage-month>

8 Ideas to Celebrate

1. Explore what it's like to be a Native young person today. Watch and read stories about what it's like to grow up as a Native young person today.
2. Discover the Tribal land you're living on right now and learn more. There are over 500 federally recognized Native tribes in the United States, each with its own unique culture and history. A great way to focus your learning experience is to discover the Tribal territory you reside in by entering your zip code in the Native Lands interactive map.
3. Read children's books about Native Americans this month and year-round. Learning about different cultures helps young people's empathy, respect and curiosity grow. And reading is a fun way to learn. Incorporate these great reads that are written and/or illustrated by Native Americans. Want to shop these books from an Indigenous-owned bookstore? Check out this list of sellers.
4. Take a virtual field trip to learn more about Native American tribes and cultures. Great for older kids, National Geographic has a multi-part Virtual Field Trip: Native American Stories on YouTube that shares three storytellers' unique perspectives. The National Museum of the American Indian features a wide variety of online exhibitions that delve into topics like the importance of Indigenous dance, horses and how Tribal nations communicated.
5. Offer activities that honor Native American oral history, honoring elders and connecting with nature.
6. Oral history: Share the importance of oral traditions in Native cultures, where stories are told and passed on to preserve histories. Ask young people to think about the "oral histories" of their own families and share them or write them down.
7. Honoring elders: Elders have a place of significance in Tribal society. Have young people draw, write about or interview an elder from their own family line. What wisdom, advice and stories would they want to capture from their family elder?
8. Connecting with nature: A respect for and connection with nature is another universal Native American value. Bring young people outdoors, have them close their eyes and listen and observe all they hear and feel.
